

The River Read Reading Series

Words by the Navesink

Saturday, January 12, 2018

11:30 a.m. – 1:30 p.m.

The Red Bank Public Library
84 West Front Street, Red Bank, NJ 07701

Christopher Bogart

with Jesse Bridges

Christopher Bogart is a retired educator and a working poet and writer with an MA in Creative Writing from Monmouth University. His poetry has been published in Voices Rising from the Grove, Spindrift, WestWard Quarterly, Saggio Poetry Journal, The Monmouth Review, Mind Murals, Whirlwind Review, The Howl of Sorrow, This Broken Shore, Jersey Shore Poets/First Edition as well as various online sites.

In 2018, Bogart's chapbook about the Yuma 14, entitled 14: Antología del Sonoran, was awarded third place in The Poetry Box Chapbook Contest and was published in October 2018 by The Poetry Box. One of the poems, "Abraham Morales Hernandez," was nominated for a Pushcart Prize.

Jesse R. Bridges III is Chris Bogart's adopted son. Jesse is a first-year college student majoring in Psychology. He will be reading a few of the younger characters in 14: Antología del Sonoran. A warm River Read welcome to Jesse, with thanks for helping to make this a reading to remember!

OPEN MIC follows the features

Poetry, prose, spoken word, all styles welcome

FREE event -- come to listen; come to share -- Please join us!

Your co-hosts Linda Johnston Muhlhausen & Gregg G. Brown lindacjm@gmail.com gregglory@aol.com